

Leadership as Purpose

Feminist leadership acknowledges that we need a clear mission that provides direction from our principles so that our work and efforts can be aligned and balanced. It requires organizational and individual awareness of external influencing forces.

Reflect on your group Values and Principles. Write a one sentence (it can run on) leadership vision statement for yourself that incorporates aspects of those values and principles.

Using this vision statement, brainstorm one personal goal for your leadership development.